Fiction & Drawing in the Shadow of the Giant Trees

Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks. August 10-14, 2015

Celebrate the National Park Service's centennial through art, learning, and service. Participants will write, draw, explore, and learn about park history and science. Help us create a collection of artwork to be showcased by the National Park Service, and be a part of our effort to connect the next generation of visitors to our parks.

Presented by published poet and writing instructor John Brantingham, artist Ann Brantingham, and other park staff and partners
